BARNARD

Knowledge joined to action- knowledge about what man has been and is- can protect the future. There is hope, I believe, in seeing the human adventure as a whole and in the shared trust that knowledge about mankind, sought in reverence for life, can bring life.

Columbia turns 250 Years Old!

Happy Birthday, Alma Mater!
The birthday bash that swallowed most of campus on Friday evening seemed more about the birthday and less about the bash, with a drizzling rain falling and a giant cake that proved inedible. Free ponchos warded off the precipitation as hundreds watched University President Lee Bollinger cut a 13-foot red velvet replica of Low Library, only to be denied a taste of the confection.

Despite the promise of a dessert that would feed 5,000 people, in the end only the library's dome was made out of cake. The rest of the structure was plywood.

Bollinger gave a brief speech, accepted Mayor Michael Bloomberg's "Columbia's 250th Anniversary Day" certificate, and read a congratulatory letter from former U.S. President Bill Clinton, a crowd favorite...

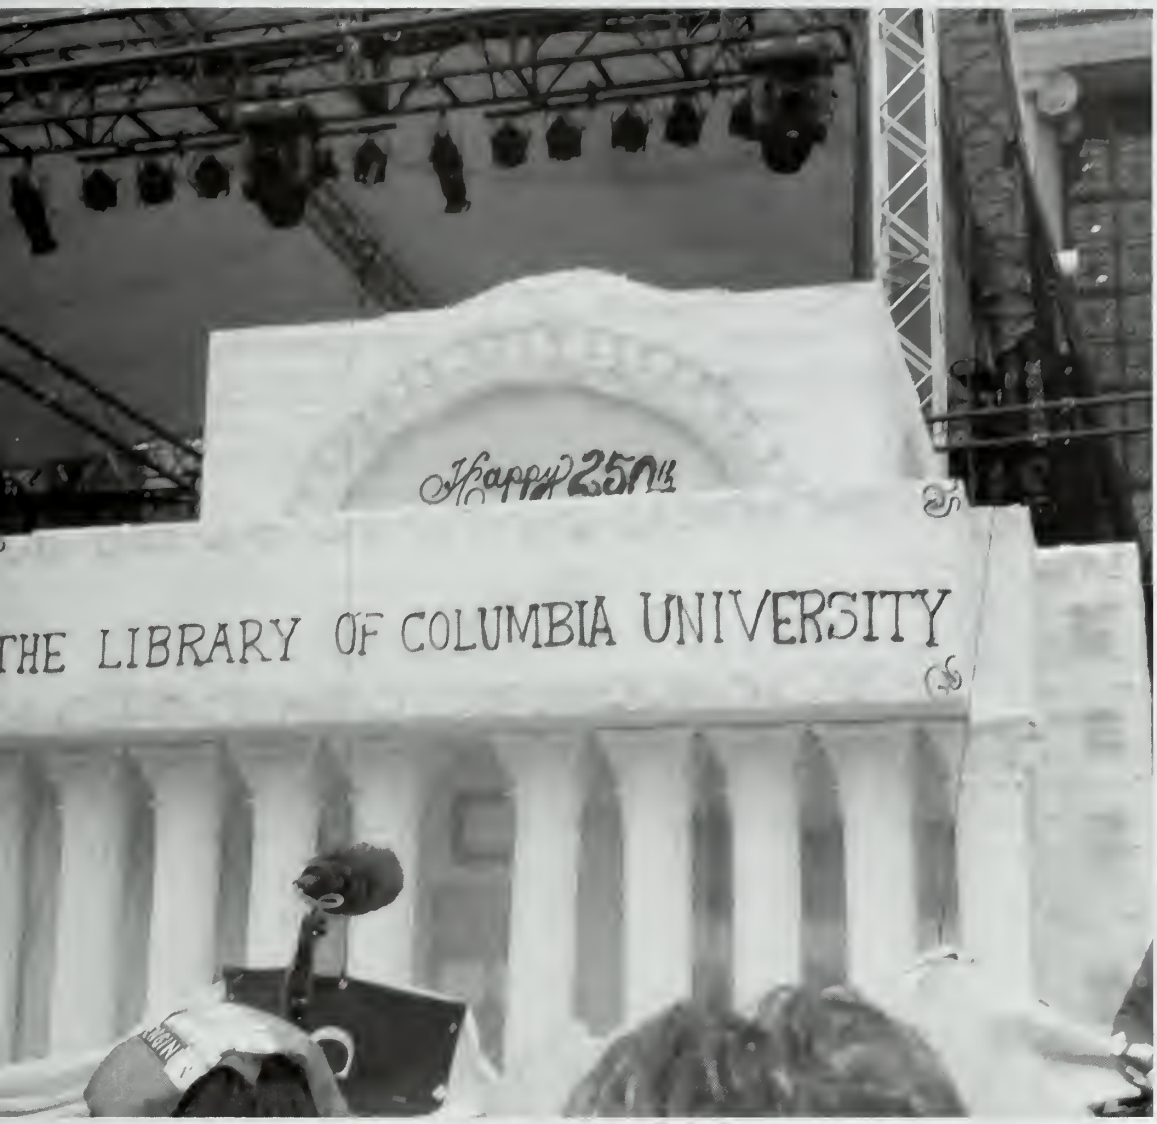

Students, alumni, and their guests stuffed their faces (and their pockets) with free pizza, sodas and celebratory cupcakes, which were for some reason black, rather than blue, and white. A raffle awarded Knicks tickets, among other prizes. Those lucky enough to be standing in front of Hamilton Hall at approximately 5:07 p.m. received blue and white umbrellas...-Josie Swindler, Columbia Spectator

Columbia University President Lee Bollinger made the first cut into the cake.

In honor of the CU 250 celebration, Low Library was decorated with blue banners marking the event.

One of the highlights of the CU 250 celebration was the unveiling of a gigantic red velvet cake, shaped like Low Library.

Erica Jong, BC 1963

A worldwide bestselling author, Jong has written eight novels, including Fear of Flying and her most recent title, Sappho's Leap. In 1998, she won the United Nations Award for Excellence in Literature, and she has received many other awards for her poetry and novels. Jong's works are popular throughout Europe and Asia as well as in the United States. Fear of Flying, considered a contemporary classic, was recently reissued in a 30th anniversary edition.

Columbia 250 15

Low Library was lit up in various hues of blue and purple to mark Columbia's 250th birthday.

Columbia turns 250 Years Old!

Students, local residents and even some parents packed Columbia's quad Saturday, anticipating two of hip-hop's premier artists, Wyclef Jean and Erykah Badu. Wyclef, whose food poisoning this week raised questions as to whether he would show up, performed for almost two hours, while Erykah Badu missed the concert altogether.

Performing some of his own songs and some classics of other artists, Wyclef certainly knew how to move the crowd. At one point, he traveled from the stage to the back of South Field and then back again to the stage, going through a throng of screaming fans on the way. Near the end of the show, he climbed 20 feet high on a tower next to the stage, which, considering the mixture of alcohol and heavy medication in his bloodstream, could not have been a good idea...

After he had been playing for about an hour and a half, Columbia officials told him he had to get off the stage. Refusing the order, Wyclef explained, "I don't want to disappoint no fans." He played for another half hour and he didn't disappoint anyone: when Columbia has Wyclef Jean, Erykah Badu can stay home.

More people—36 million of them—read Nelson's People magazine than see any other entertainment product during the week, including every top-rated television show and highest-grossing blockbuster film. As the magazine's managing editor, Nelson has guided People to the No. 1 ranking in ad revenue, ad pages, and ad share among weekly magazines. She also founded InStyle magazine, serving as editor until being promoted to People in 2002.

Many student performers had the chance to showcase their talents as part of the CU 250 festivities.

The stage where the performances took place was erected right in front of Butler Library: there was definitely no studying going on in Butler that weekend.

There was no mistaking which te these fans were rooting for.

Ellen Futter, BC 1971

When Futter was named the president of Barnard in 1981, she was the youngest person to become the president of a major American college. As president, she was instrumental in forming an agreement with then-University President Michael Sovern to allow cross-registration for Columbia and Barnard students as well as cross-participation on athletic teams. Futter later became the director of the American Museum of Natural History, where she instituted controversial exhibits on subjects like HIV and AIDS along with the ethics of gene research.

Columbia turns 250 Years Old!

Two hundred and fifty years later, Columbia University is remembering its roots. The college that King George II built was born out of controversy: long before it opened in July 1754, debates raged over location and religious affiliation. Ever since, that same contentious spirit has shaped its campus, its neighborhood, and its people.

Just 22 years after its creation, King's College closed for seven years during the Revolutionary War. When it re-opened, the College had rejected the Tory sentiments of its name, opting instead for "Columbia," a word taken from patriotic poetry of the age....

Today, as the University proudly celebrates 250 years of history, the themes of conversation, dissension, and turmoil remain integral parts of Columbian life. When the U.S. declared war on Iraq last spring, students protested across campus. When the Supreme Court voted to uphold affirmative action last June, they voted to support the arguments of Lee Bollinger, the University's 19th president...

So call it a remembrance, call it a planning opportunity, or just call it a birthday bash: Two hundred and fifty years later, Columbia University is celebrating. -Megan Greenwell, Columbia Spectator

Strong, Beautiful

Perhaps the most memorable aspect of student life here at Barnard is the host of traditions that makes every year special. The fall semester boasts the "Big Sub," which stretches across Barnard's campus, and is divided into several sections, including Kosher and vegetarian sections. The Midnight Breakfast is a bi-annual event marking the beginning of final exams, and features Barnard administrators serving breakfast foods in LeFrak Gymnasium. Another finals week marker is Orgo Night, in which students throw their "organic chemistry notes" out their windows and burn off some stress before exams actually begin. The most historical Barnard tradition is the Greek Games. The Greek Games were recently revived after a period of dormancy, and pit the four classes against each other in a series of games. It is not uncommon to see Barnard students clad in togas and crowns of ivy during the Greek Games, dressed in the image of the statue of Athena that stands on our campus.

Doing the Right Thing

Take Back the Night is the largest annual event held on the Barnard campus. Both men and women march together down Broadway to protest sexual violence and rape; the march is followed by a speakout on Lehman Lawn in which survivors speak about their experiences.

2004 brought with it Columbia's fourth annual Dance Marathon to benefit the Elizabeth Glaser Pediatric AIDS Foundation. The dance marathon took place in Roone Arledge Auditorium and lasted 28 hours.

During the Dance Marathon, the walls of Roone Arledge Auditorium are lined with signs supporting the dancers.

More than 100 dancers participated, representing a variety of organizations including Barnard College, the Fu Foundation School of Engineering and Applied Science, Columbia College, the School of General Studies, Jewish Theological Seminary, Teachers College, and Columbia Business School.

Honor Code

Approved by the student body in 1912, the Code states:

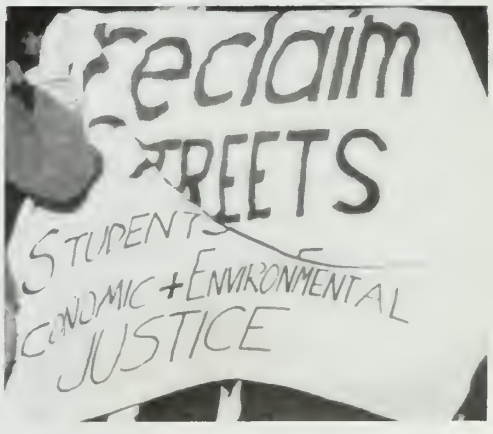

We, the students of Barnard College, resolve to uphold thehonor of the College by refraining from every form of dishonesty in our academic life. We consider it dishonest to ask for, give, or receive help in examinations or quizzes, to use any papers or books not authorized by the instructor in examinations, or to present oral work or written work which is not entirely our own, unless otherwise approved by the instructor. We consider it dishonest to remove without authorization, alter, or deface library and other academic materials. We pledge to do all that is in our power to create a spirit of honesty and honor for its own sake.

The Honor Board, which "has the responsibility for developing and following [the Code's] rules of procedure and for educating the community about the Honor System" is advised by Dean Blank.

Club Bangla

Club Bangla
www.columbia.edu/cu/bangla
Club Bangla increases awareness on campus about the language, culture and social heritage of "Bangla" (Bengali). We promote a better understanding and have more visible representation of the Bengali community on Barnard and Columbia Campus. We cultivate a close frame of support for Columbia students and its affiliates of Bengali background and interest. The mutual sharing of knowledge further enhances the diversity of Columbia University and its affiliates. By exploring "Bangla" heritage in a Western environment, you can better understand individual identities in a concrete and contextual sense. As a group, Bangla benefits its members and the community by acting as individuals and encouraging the participation of all students, faculty and administration of Columbia University and its affiliates.

Founded in 2001, Raw Elementz is a student-run, student-choreographed dance troupe committed to a style known as fusion, a combination of hiphop, street, funk, jazz, break dancing, and anything else we left out! Combining the elements of teamwork, dedication, and a serious need to shake it, Raw Elementz works to put on a great show and spread the word about the boogie.

TAAL

www.columbia.edu/cu/taal
taal@columbia.edu
Taal promotes the awareness of South Asian dance, thereby promoting the awareness of South Asian culture and performing arts, at Barnard College and Columbia University. As the official South Asian dance troupe of Barnard College and Columbia University, Taal serves as a medium through which the many students who have studied South Asian dance may continue the art through choreography and performance. Through dance workshops featuring classical and non-classical styles, Taal has given South Asians as well as non-South Asians, a means through which they might learn more about the art of South Asian dance. Comprised of accomplished dancers who were selected by auditions, which are held in the beginning of each semester, the group has become an active one on campus.

Columbia University Club Spotlight

Dance MaArathon

CUDM

Columbia's Dance Marathon is a 28-hour marathon where registered dancers, in partnership with others, raise the appropriate money and agree to stay on their feet (not dance, but remain standing) for the entire 28-hours. All donations are made in support of the Elizabeth Glaser Pediatric Aids Foundation. Awesome entertainment, special theme hours, refreshment breaks, and fun and exciting morale boosting activities took place throughout the event to keep the dancers going. At various times during the event, local and university dignitaries, celebrities, and families affected by pediatric AIDS spoke to the dancers and motivated them to continue standing on their feet for this great cause.

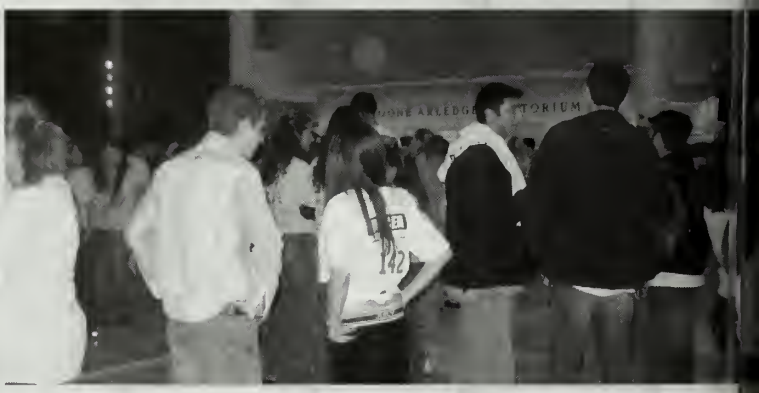

Barnard Knitters

The Barnard Knitters teach the Barnard community members to knit. It is mandated that all members donate at least one project per semester to organizations designed to aid the homeless. The officers will maintain a knitting kit for new students to learn with. The club expands its scope to include more community events to teach knitting in the community in subsequent semesters. We meet at least four times a semester.

Bacchante

Bacchantae, Barnard's only acappella group, is an energetic, dedicated, and fantastically fun group of female singers. Each member offers her own unique sound to a well-blended group. Performing everything from Fiona Apple to Madonna to the Mamas and the Papas, we conduct and arrange all of our songs. Membership is by audition only.

InterVarsity Club Spotlight

Christian Fellowship

InterVarsity Christian Fellowship

With the purpose of developing a unified witnessing community, Columbia IVCF seeks to challenge individuals to grow in a personal relationship with God through Jesus Christ, founded upon prayer, God's Word, and obedience to the Holy Spirit.
In response to God's love, grace, and truth: The purpose of InterVarsity Christian Fellowship, USA is to establish and advance at colleges and universities witnessing communities of students and faculty who follow Jesus as Savior and Lord, growing in love for God, God's Word, God's people of every ethnicity and culture and God's purposes in the world.

CU Sign Language

www.columbia.edu/cu/soul

Columbia Sign Language Club is dedicated to serving the Columbia University and Deaf communities by providing avenues for Columbia students who are Deaf or interested in Deafness and sign language to get involved with the creation of a Deaf-friendly and Deaf-aware campus. Columbia Sign Language Club organizes events in the interest of the Columbia and Deaf communities, principally, but not limited to, free American Sign Language (ASL) classes on campus, and events where Deaf and the hearing interact. Events are of general interest and are not exclusive to a certain creed, gender, or ethnicity. The Board is responsible for the planning of events and for the events themselves. Other members are involved and in charge of some events where the Board serves acts in a supervisory role and takes all responsibility.

AMMP: Advertising, Marketing, Media & Public Relations

www.ammpnyc.com

A.M.M.P. is the first organization at Columbia University focused on the communications industries. Our mission is to bridge the academic community with the professional fields of advertising, media, marketing and public relations. We now have a membership of over 300 students from Columbia College, Columbia Business School, Barnard College, and Columbia School of General Studies.

We have a three-fold approach to accomplish our goals:

- Provide industry education and skill-building workshops with experienced professionals.
- Organize networking and mentoring opportunities with industry executives.
- Enable our members to gain hands-on experience by running publicity campaigns for other Columbia and Barnard organizations.

87.9 FM WBAR, Barnard College Radio is the student-run radio station of Barnard College and Columbia University. We broadcast 24 hours a day, 7 days a week to the Barnard community on-campus and to the rest of the world via the Internet. We are non-commercial, non-profit, and freeform. Our goal is to provide DJs and listeners an alternative to the Top 40 music normally played on commercial stations, as well as give our DJs the opportunity to learn about all aspects of broadcasting. WBAR encourages its DJs—Barnard, Columbia, SEAS, GS, and graduate students— to express and explore their ideas and musical tastes and to create an environment that accepts and encourages a wide variety of opinions and backgrounds.

CU Architecture Society

www.columbia.edu/cu/archprogram

CU Architecture Society is a non-profit organization for the promotion of architecture to undergraduate students on the Columbia campus. Our activities include: field trips, gallery and office tours, displays of student work, the publication of monthly calendars, newsletters and a journal at the end of the academic year. CU Architecture Society is intended to provide a forum for students interested in architecture as a field of study and as a profession to ask questions, learn about graduate schools and the profession within the context of New York City. It is also meant to be a loosely structured group, one more for social and intellectual gatherings than as a strictly run political organization.

ABSK

Welcome to ABSK, or Asian Baptist Student Koinonia. We're a campus fellowship group committed to spreading the good news of Christ throughout the Columbia community, and especially getting to know fellow students who want to live the incredible life found in Christ. "Koinonia" is a Greek word meaning fellowship, which tells you the focus of our group - coming to know and love the God who loves us, and loving those around us in the same way.

Political Science Student Association

The Political Science Students Association of Barnard College fosters an improved understanding of important political events — historical, current, and potential — among Barnard College and Columbia University students. The Political Science Students Association opens lines of communication between political science faculty members and their students, encourages interest in the political science department at Barnard College, and increases general participation in politics. We host lectures presented by both school faculty and professionals in fields related to politics, facilitate group discussions of current events designed to enable dialogue between professors and their students outside the classroom. We organize advising sessions led by experienced upper-level students and professors for those interested in majoring in political science and sponsoring campus-wide events with other political organizations such as the Columbia Political Union and Columbia Political Science Students Association.

Women's International Business Council

Women's International Business Council educates, empowers, and motivates women in their own personal business endeavors by helping them attain and cultivate 21st Century business skills. The Council informs members of all areas of business including, but not limited to marketing, advertising, public relations, accounting, finance, entrepreneurship, government affairs, and business leadership. The Council will do this by holding meeting roundtables, discussions, and panels with business leaders, and attaining and developing business contacts in conjunction with the Office of Career Development.

Network of Pre-Medical Students of Color

The Network of Pre Medical Students of Color provides under represented pre-health students with knowledge, skills and experiences that are both prerequisite and concomitant to professional participation in health care fields. We endeavor to enhance recruitment of under-represented students into health care, enrich the academic and professional development of these students, and produce competitive candidates for professional health related programs who are knowledgeable of the admissions processes. Our goal is to increase minority participation in all professional health related programs with an emphasis on medicine. We facilitate interaction between our pre-health membership and the educators and administrators of Columbia University training health professionals, for recruiting activities, the exchange of pertinent information and materials, and the identification of resources and mentors.

Students Against Silence

CCBSG

The Columbia Chinese Bible Study Group (CCBSG) is an independent Christian student organization. Our chief purpose is to provide a venue for anyone interested to study the Bible in a systematic way.

Objectives of CCBSG:

1. To study the Bible objectively.
2. To provide Chritian fellowship, particularly on campus.
3. To promote evangelistic outreach, particularly on campus.
4. To integrate Biblical truth on real life situations

SAS: Students Against Silence

Students Against Silence promotes awareness and helps prevent suicide and its symptoms both on and off the Columbia University campus, and provides an open atmosphere in which to discuss these problems. Students Against Silence increases communication among students, faculty, and staff about the tragedy of suicide and the issues surrounding it. In an attempt to reduce stress and other factors contributing to poor mental health, Students Against Silence increases communication among students. With education and support for the community, the group breaks the silence surrounding mental health issues and the shame surrounding suicide.

Lions Top Cornell for First Ivy Triumph

NEW YORK, N.Y. (April 2, 2004) - Columbia defeated Cornell, 4-3, at the Dick Savitt Tennis Center.

The Lions took the doubles point as well as the top two singles points as first-years Dasha Leonyuk (C-Boca Raton, Fla) and Milena Kachar (C-Boca Raton, Fla.) both won their matches. Leonyuk rallied from a set down to win her No. 2 singles match going away. No. 1 singles Kachar handled her opponent more easily in two sets. Sophomore Molly Condit (C-North Little Rock, Ark.) fought through a tough second set, winning in a tiebreaker in the second set, to give the Lions their fourth and match clinching point.

The Light Blue swept the doubles matches to secure the vital tie breaking point. Kachar and Leonyuk teamed at the No. 1 doubles while first year Kendall Murphy (C-Lake Forest, Ill.) and sophomore Eunice Chao (C-New City, N.Y.) showed the squad's depth by taking the No. 2 doubles match.

The Lions improved their record to 9-3 overall and 1-1 in the Ivy League

Columbia Downs Lafayette, Fordham

KISSIMMEE, FLA. (Mar. 19, 2004) – The Light Blue won two close games, beating Lafayette 1-0 in the bottom of the seventh and squeezing past Fordham, 2-1. The Lions improve to 8-9 on the season.

In their first game against Lafayette, the Lions were held to three hits, but were able to score in the bottom of the seventh to clinch a 1-0 victory. Marisa Marconi (Jr.-C, Henderson, Nev.) led off the seventh with a single to center field. She advanced to second and to third on two wild pitches. She was then able to score on a slow infield hit by first-year Lacie Nelson (C-Lake Stevens, Wash.). Pitcher Megan Ivey (So.-C, Valencia, Calif.) got the win for C.U., putting her at 4-3 for the season.

In the second game, Columbia trailed early, as Fordham's leadoff batter scored on an RBI double by designated player Katie Davis. The Lions would rally in the third, scoring Lexie Costic (So.-C, Salem, Ore.) on a throwing error by the Rams' shortstop. Marconi then scored Maiya Chard-Yaron (So.-C, San Diego, Calif.) on a suicide squeeze, putting C.U. ahead 2-1. Fordham would have a chance to score in the bottom of the seventh with the bases loaded, but pitcher Jackie Adelfio (So.-E, Old Bridge, N.J.) struck out the final Fordham batter looking. Adelfio improved her record to 4-4, while Costic finished the game two-for-three with one run scored.

C.U. Defeats St. Francis 3-0 For First WIn of Season

HAMILTON, N.Y. (Oct. 4, 2003) – Columbia earned its first win of the season in grand fashion Saturday afternoon, defeating St. Francis (N.Y.) 3-0 in a neutral-site contest in Hamilton, N.Y. With the win, Columbia improves to 1-10 on the season.

Junior Kate Mansur (C-Greenfield, Mass.) put the Lions up early and for good when she took a pass from Diana Day (C-Stroudsburg, Pa.) and converted a goal 11 minutes into the game. Mansur scored just over four minutes later on an unassisted shot. First-year forward Ramie Merrill (C-Cornville, Maine) iced the game for Columbia on a pass from Erin Wesseldine (C-Virginia Beach, Va.).

First-year keeper Kristina George (C-Encinitas, Calif.) earned her first collegiate win and shut out with the victory.

Dartmouth Hands Lions a Tough Loss

HANOVER, N.H. (Oct. 31, 2003) – Columbia suffered a tough loss at the hands of the Big Green, losing two games to three. Dartmouth won the first two games 30-27. The Lions rallied back in the next two games winning 33-31 and 30-24. But the Light Blue could not hold on to its momentum, losing the fifth game by only three points (15-12). This match brought Dartmouth to 8-12 (2-7 Ivy) while Columbia remains winless at 0-16 (0-9 Ivy).

Senior Cassie Byran (Sr.-C Pacific Palisades, Calif.) had a career high 26 kills in the match while she also added 18 digs, making this her third double-double of the season. Fellow senior Marissa Balak (Sr.-C San Juan Capistrano, Calif.) also broke a career-high with tallying 30 digs against the Big Green. Meghan Feeney (Sr.-C Newport Beach, Calif.) led all players with 55 assists. Kainoa Fialkowski led Dartmouth with 17 kills in the win.

Lions Win Fourth Straight With Triumph at Lehigh

EAST STROUDSBURG, PA. (Nov. 22, 2003) – The Light Blue took part in the East Stroudsburg Open and place seven in the top six. The team was led by Daniel Green (Sr., Tulsa, Okla.), who placed second. Green went 5-0 in the tournament at 125, losing in the finals to Matt Smith (Unattached-Penn State) in double overtime (7-6).

Also wrestling in the 125 bracket was transfer Jeff Sato (So., Pismo Beach, Calif.). Sato captured fourth place after having a tough overtime win in the third round. Anthony Constantino (Fr., Kirtland, Ohio) and Bart Seeman (Jr., Suffern, N.Y.) also placed fourth in their respective classes. Constantino (141) battled hard through the bracket with his biggest win coming against Rob Becker (George Mason), who is ranked as high as no. 10 in the nation. Seeman had a good showing at the tournament, going 4-1 for the day while capturing his fourth-place spot.

Devin Mesanko (157, So. Toms River, N.J.) had a 7-6 tie-breaker win over Keith Kelckner to capture fifth place in the consolation rounds. Senior Erik Norgaard (Sr. Leonia, N.J.) took sixth place, making it through his first three bouts without a point being scored on him. First-year Josh Moyer (133, Fr., Kansas City, Mo.) also placed sixth, grabbing his first tournament placing in his collegiate career.

Lineup Changes Provides Varsity Heavyweights with Significant Time Imporivement at IRAs

CAMDEN, N.J. (June 3, 2004) – It's a truism in rowing, as in most track and field events, that time improvements are measured in small doses – a second here, a few seconds there.
But coach Scott McKee's varsity heavyweight crew proved an exception to the rule in today's action at the I.R.A. Regatta, the national championship for college men's crew.

After turning in a 6:19.87 time for the morning trial heat over the 2000-meter Cooper River course, McKee made a lineup change. It paid off beautifully, as Columbia, rowing under the same conditions as the morning session on the sunlit, windless day, turned in a 6:00.15 in the second round, which is called the Repechage. The near 20-second reduction in time was a major accomplishment for the Lions. Although they were unable to improve their position from the morning race, due in large part to an unusually strong Repechage heat, they will advance to Friday's semifinals.

Four Lions Named All-Ivy

NEW YORK, N.Y. (Mar. 24, 2004) – Four Columbia wrestlers have been chosen All-Ivy League, the conference office announced. Steve Sutton (133, Buskirk, N.Y.) was named second team All-Ivy and Jeff Sato (125, Pismo Beach, Calif.), Devin Mesanko (157, Toms River, N.J.), and Sven Hafemeister (174, Leipzig, Germany) were named honorable mention.

Sutton had a stellar rookie campaign, coming on late in the season as one of the top Ivy wrestlers. He ended the season with a 6-4 dual record and placed sixth at the Wilkes Open and third at the EIWA Championships. He ended the season with a 12-9 overall record.

Sato led the Lions for the season in wins, with 30 overall. He was a New York State champion and placed fourth at the EIWA's. Sato went 9-3 in dual meets for the season and was 30-14 overall.

Mesanko had a great sophomore effort, placing second at the Michigan State Open, fourth at the Southern Scuffle, and fifth at the East Stroudsburg Open. He finished fifth at the EIWA Championships and ended the season with an overall record of 26-13 and a dual record of 7-5.

Hafemeister garnered a seventh place finish at the New York State Championships as well as a sixth place finish at the Wilkes Open during the season. He also had key victories in the team's wins over Brown and Harvard, helping him finish with a 7-5 dual record. His overall record for the season was an even 13-13

Lions Equal Best League Record Since '92-'93 With Win at Navy

ANNAPOLIS, MD. (Feb. 14, 2004) – Columbia defeated Navy, 132.5-110.5, in a closely contested meet to finish with an EISL record of 6-3, equaling the team's best league finish since 1992-93. Columbia has now won five of its last six dual meets.

The meet got off on an odd note when the Lions' 400 medley relay of Reid Evans (San Antonio, Texas), Mike Nelson (Walnut Creek, Calif.), Ben Collins (Seattle, Wash.) and Scott Ingram (Whitefish Bay, Wisc.) tied for first with the Midshipmen.

However, the Light Blue asserted itself in the 1000 free with a 1-2-3 finish from Mike Bazylewicz (Manchester-by-the-Sea, Mass.), Jake Abbott (Redlands, Calif.), and Nick Clements (Boise, Idaho), respectively. Bazylewicz also went on to win the 500 free.

Collins won two individual events. The junior was first in both the 200 fly and 200 individual medley. The team's other event-winners were Tobin White (Mt. Hermon, Calif.) in the 100 free and John McGrath (Randolph, Mass.) in the 200 breast.

Columbia Wins Handily Again in 195-103 Victory Over Fordham

BRONX, N.Y. (Nov. 24, 2003) – Columbia placed first in just 10 of 16 events but nearly doubled Fordham's score in a 195-103 victory to improved to 2-0. Fordham is now 6-2.

"We won 10 of the 16 events, so it was really more about depth, and not necessarily about front-line strength," noted head coach Diana Caskey.

As a case-in-point, C.U. opened the meet with a one-two finish in the 200 medley relay, led by the first-place finish of Emily Seidman (C-Cleveland Heights, Ohio), Kathryn Alexander (C-Pittsfield, Mass.), Sarah Fischer (C-Mechanicsburg, Pa.) and Jessica Braun (C-Richmond, Va.) in 1:49.79.

Alexander led a 1-2-3 finish in the 50 breast in 30.69, followed by Susannah Knox (C-Montclair, N.J.) and Rachel Wnukowski (Doylestown, Pa.). Knox went on the win the 100 breast in 1:07.66.

Fischer was first in the 50 fly (26.99), Braun touched first in the 50 free (24.50). Liz Swartwout (B-Hamden, Conn.) was victorious in the 100 fly (58.69), and Mary McCue (C-Shrewsbury, N.J.) won the 100 free (53.58).

Junior diver Grace Coyle (C-Scranton, Pa.) won both the one-meter board (257.10) and the three-meter (283.28).

Braun, McCue, Alexander and Swartwout conclude the meet with a triumph in the 200 free relay in 1:39.07.

Lions Honored at Annual Awards Dinner

NEW YORK, N.Y. (Jan. 23, 2004) — On Friday night in the Low Library Rotunda on the Columbia University campus, the football program came together to honor a number of players whose performances helped improved the Lions' team this past season.

Nick Rudd (Orinda,Calif.) was given the Special Forces Award for the second year in a row. This award is given annualy to the outstanding special teams player. Rudd garnered many awards this season, including being named first team All-Ivy for punting and honorable mention for kicking.

Olivier Manigat (Cornwall, Ont.) received the Lou Little Most Improved Award. This honor is given annually to the player who has made the most significant and meaningful improvement from the prior season.

Jeff Roether (Plantsville, Conn.) was the recipient of the Maniatty-Remmer Unsung Hero Award.

Kevin Coco (Austin, Texas) was given the John J. Cirigliano Ironman Award. This honor is given annually to the player who answers the call everyday for practice and leaves it all on the field on Saturday.

Travis Chmelka (Fremont, Neb.) and Michael Waln (Alpharetta, Ga.) were given the Phil Fusco and Class of 1913 Cup, respectively. Both are academic awards which recognize the players commitment to the classroom and the field. The first is given to a senior who exemplifies the legacy of Phil Fusco, a student-athlete dedicated to maintaining his involvement in academics, athletics and fellowship at its highest level. The 1913 Cup is awarded to a junior or senior letterman who has the best cumulative GPA through the fall semester proceeding the date of the dinner and who has participated for at least two years.

Jeff Otis (Chesterfield, Mo.) was given the Sid Luckman MVP Award. Otis set a number of Columbia records in 2003 and was ranked in the league and nationally in a number of categories throughout the season.

DiCresenzo, Hurtault Both Take Fifth in School-Record Times at NCAA Regionals

GAINESVILLE, FLA. (May 29, 2004) – Erison Hurtault (Aberdeen, N.J.) continued to make waves in the 400m, and he will now have a chance to do so on a national level. Both he and junior Delilah DiCrescenzo (C-Chicago, Ill.) qualified for the NCAA Championships at today's NCAA East Regional at the University of Florida. Hurtault finished fifth in the 400m and DiCrescenzo was fifth in the 3000m steeplechase.

Hurtault, a first-year, broke his own school record for the second consecutive day. He was the eighth seed of nine qualifiers for today's final by running 46.79 in yesterday's preliminary. Today, he shaved a remarkable 46/100 of a second off of that mark with a time of 46.33. It was the fourth-fastest time ever-run by an Ivy League athlete, behind only Yale's Wendell Motley in 1964, Penn's Bill Carr in 1932, and, just a few years ago, Brown's Trinity Gray. Florida's Reggie Witherspoon won today's 400m in 45.53.

DiCrescenzo, already the fastest steeplechaser in conference history, improved her school record by almost 3.5 seconds with a time of 10:18.52. Helen Hofstede of Florida State won the event with a time of 10:09.90.

DiCrescenzo and Hurtault will join Steve Sundell (Fargo, N.D.) at the NCAA Championships in Austin, Texas on Wed.-Sat., June 9-12. Yesterday, Sundell won the 5000m at the East Regional.

Dear Members of the Class of 2004 ~

No matter where the next years take you, this yearbook will bring you back to Barnard. As you flip through the pages, you'll find yourself sitting on Lehman Lawn in the spring, taking notes at a lecture, meeting a friend for a latte at Java City, scoring a goal, rehearsing a play. Treasure this book – I assure you that it will mean even more to you decades from now, when you will smile at the photos of classmates and find yourself nostalgic with memories for your Barnard home.

You had a great time more often than not, and you learned more from each other than you ever thought possible. The Mortarboard is a wonderful souvenir of that reality – a collection of faces, faculty, athletics, events, candid encounters, and thoughtful writing. Enjoy it. And return to Barnard often to remind yourself of all that you gave to this campus and all that your time here gave to you.

I look forward to hearing about the next chapters in your lives.

With all good wishes and affection,

Judith Shapiro

Judith Shapiro
The President of Barnard College

Judith R. Shapiro, a widely respected cultural anthropologist who has done pioneering research on gender differences, became the 10th leader of Barnard College in 1994. A prominent voice on women's education, Shapiro has led Barnard through exceptional transformations at every level, enhancing the College's academic reputation and physical space and strengthening its financial position and public presence. During her tenure, applications soared two-fold and, with increased selectivity, Barnard has become the most sought-after private liberal arts college for women in the United States.

DEAR ALICIA,

YOU HAVE ALWAYS MADE US MORE THAN PROUD OF YOU. YOU PERSEVERE, YOU ARE SENSITIVE, UNDERSTANDING, AND PASSIONATE ABOUT WHAT YOU BELIEVE IN. YOUR HUMOR, CURIOSITY AND WIT ARE CONSTANTLY SURPRISING AND ENTERTAINING. YOUR STRONG AMBITION TO ACHIEVE AND BECOME THE BEST THAT YOU CAN BE IS ADMIRABLE. WE APPLAUD YOU ON ALL OF YOUR ACCOMPLISHMENTS AND HOPE THAT THE NEXT CHAPTER OF YOUR LIFE READS AS YOU WANT.

Congratulations to our daughter Emma!
At Barnard College, you have gained a broad liberal arts education, mastered varied literature, successfully plumbed the mysteries of fruit-fly genetics, made lifetime friends, and strengthened your relationship with you brother Benjamin. We love you and look forward to upcoming chapters of your saga of growth as a wonderful person!

WENDY DONG

Wendy,
ince you were little, you have always been a dreamer. Idealistic, et grounded and "somewhat" realistic. After four years of hard work in college, you are now free to start pursuing them. Your spirations are immense and so is your heart. Combine the two and you can never go wrong. The sky is the limit. "To infinity and beyond!" B. Lightyear

We're so proud of you ! Congratulations on graduating !

Many times there was darkness,
But you looked for the light.
Decisions became difficult,
Yet you've chosen what was right.
Your accomplishments have been phenomenal,
You have made me extremely proud.
Now graduating from Barnard,
Your achievements shine admidst the crowd.
The future is yours –
I know you'll strive to do more, never less,
Always continuing your tradition,
Of success upon success.

Dear Stephanie,

We are so proud of you and all that you accomplished as you graduate from Barnard College. You excel in all that you do. Your future looks as bright as you are. The best is yet to come. With pride and joy, we wish you much happiness and great success.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Seth, Danielle, Kayla and Buddy

Marie,

Every parent dreams of having a child and with pride, a little luck and a lot of love you hope and pray they turn out to become fine young adults. We were fortunate to have such a child. We are so proud, lucky and blessed to have a daughter like you. Your desire to succeed, excel and strive for perfection has left us once again proud to say the least. Your accomplishments in all your theater performances year in and year out as well as your educational accomplishments enforce your commitment, drive and willingness to succeed in all your endeavors. When we recently looked back to February, 1982, we too had hopes of having a child, and as with every parent we dreamt of your future. We could never have dreamt of a daughter like you. WOW!

Continue onto your journey where ever it leads you. Brace it!! Fill it!! Cap it!! Clean it!! But most of all let them see your beautiful smile. Always remember focus on your dreams. Dreams do come true ~ we had you!

Good Luck in Dental School!

We Love you,
Dad, Mom & Thomas

Our Dearest Han Han,
We felt such tenderness,
Each time you waved and kicked with delight,
At the sight of us approaching.

We watched with wonder,
How you examined and considered the pieces,
Quickly solving the puzzle meant for those much older.

We read with amazement,
The creative stories you wrote and illustrated,
Demonstrating sensitivity much beyond your years.

We could hardly have imagined,
How beautifully you could interpret a song,
In your melodious voice filled with passion.

We never knew,
How proud we could be of another's accomplishments,
Until you showed us.

You were Daddy's little girl and Mommy's little princess,
In some ways, you will always be.

But today,
We are here to cheer on a blossoming young woman,
Embracing the world,
Giving it her best,
Steadfastly reaching for her goals.

We will always be your most enthusiastic cheerleaders.
Go for your dreams!

Much love,
Mommy & Daddy

Congratulations, dear Jie Jie!!
We wouldn't have had as much fun without you!

Dear Class of 2004,

Unlike the majority of the members of the Class of 2004, who cut their official ties with Barnard on May 19th, I am officially tied to Barnard until I have edited the last of the yearbook proofs, which will probably happen sometime in late August.

I thought my summer at Barnard would be anti-climactic…what else was there for me to learn about Barnard, Columbia, and even Morningside Heights? Surprisingly, a lot. My first new Barnard experience came when I was assigned to live in Elliott Hall for the summer. I had managed to avoid living in Elliott throughout my undergrad career, but here I was, now a graduate, living in a room so small that I had to use the top of my mini fridge as a desk.

I felt like a freshman all over again, riding up in an unfamiliar elevator, and learning the way to the vending machines and the laundry room. This feeling of uncertainty, however, was mixed with a sense of confidence: I knew the person at the security desk, how to work the ever-complicated ROLM phone, and where to call if I wanted pizza or Chinese food delivered.

I think every graduate leaves Barnard with this combined feeling of uncertainty and confidence. As Barnard students, we have honed our academic skills and have learned to interact with our peers and superiors alike. We should be confident in our abilities to write, speak publicly, and analyze any situation with which we are confronted: the curriculum at Barnard has assured that we can handle all of these tasks with ease.

The uncertainty part of the combination goes hand-in-hand with our departure from our small college community. While we may not have felt nurtured every minute of our Barnard careers, we spent four years of our lives in a very supportive environment. We were advised and taught by professors who were top scholars in their fields, pre-professionally advised by college deans, and were given the opportunity as undergraduates to do research in top labs. On a more personal note, we were invited to have dinner with President Shapiro, share meals with our deans at class dinners, and were addressed by name by college administrators.

It's rare to find oneself in such a supportive environment, and many of us will not encounter such an atmosphere throughout our careers. While in the future we may not be able to take advantage of everything Barnard offered us as students, we will be able to rely on the friends and sisters we gained during our time here. While it was momentous that we graduated as the recipients of assorted honors, scholarships, graduate school acceptances, and job offers, the most important thing that we graduated with was each other, and the friendships we cultivated these past four years.

I sincerely hope the 2004 Mortarboard will serve as a portal to the time you spent at Barnard, and rekindle all of the fond memories you have made here. As classmates for four years, we have all affected each other, whether we realize it or not. As Editor-in-Chief of this yearbook, I have learned more than I could ever imagine about each and every one of you, as well as the Barnard experience as a whole. As I begin the next chapter of my life, I know I will take a piece of each member of the Class of 2004 with me and I am confident you will do the same. Thank you for making these past four years a time to look back and smile upon.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Walsh

Jennifer Walsh
Editor-in-Chief

Danielle…I would need a whole separate yearbook to write everything I wanted to you. I was so lucky to be placed with a roommate who would turn out to be my best friend as well as the most intuitve and perceptive person in the world. I would have never made it without you. Don't ever fall off our wavelength ~~~ I love you. Viv and Sonal…Thank you guys so much for making my adjustment to Barnard so easy. I had so much fun with you guys over the past four years, I can't think of two other people that I would have rather lived with when I came to Barnard. I love you both. Sofia…Eight years together, we did it! I'm glad we had the opportunity to go to college and become such good friends. SHJA '00, BC '04! Check and Kerry…Even though you guys didn't go to Barnard, I definitely had to include you guys in here. We have been through so much together and we are only 22 years old. I know we'll be friends forever. I love you both, JFK.

Mom, Dad, and Pam…Words cannot express how grateful I am to have the three of you. You are there for me unconditionally, and give to me whatever I want or need. I definitely could not have made it without you. Mom and Dad…You truly serve as my role models, both professionally and in your personal lives. I hope, as an adult, I can be as diligent, hard working, kind, selfless, and generous as both of you. I love you both. Pam… I know I don't say this often enough, but I am so proud of you. You truly excel at everything you do, whether it is academically, athletically, or socially. You seem to adapt to things so quickly, and maintain a balanced life with ease. I know you will succeed on whatever path you choose to follow in life, whether it be medical school or otherwise. I love you.

Finally, thank you to the entire Mortarboard staff for your hard work, especially Vivian. Sometimes I think we were crazy to do this for three years, but we definitely had fun. Thank you also to Surabhi, our moderator, Maria and Cristen from CAO, Brian from Jostens, and Mike from Carl Wolf, for helping with all the little problems that popped up. Jill, I know I am leaving the book in the best of hands.
